

NJCACOA Animal Predicaments

Pompton Lakes Deer Tangled in Hammock

The services of New Jersey Fish and Wildlife Officer Joe Burke were required when this male, antlered whitetail buck became entangled in a Pompton Lakes neighborhood hammock.

Officer Burke tranquilized the deer in order to free it from the tangled ropes. The deer was observed until it awakened and returned to the woods completely unharmed.

Some photographs of this whitetail deer's predicament are shown below.

